

Febelfin Governance

“Without change there is no innovation, creativity, or incentive for improvement. Those who initiate change will have a better opportunity to manage the change that is inevitable.”

– William Pollard

Dear reader,

Let this brochure be your guide to find out more about Febelfin's DNA:

- The mission and values
- The core tasks
- The strategic objectives

These are all social issues to which the Federation must find an appropriate response.

You will also find more information in this brochure about the composition and role of the various administrative bodies.

All the above building blocks will provide our Federation with a firm foundation to play an increasingly anchored role in economy and society in the years to come. And you, more than ever, are part of it!

What does Febelfin stand for?

Mission

Febelfin defends the interests of its members and, together with its members, is committed to a strong, resilient and inclusive financial sector that, as an essential partner, supports sustainable economic growth and innovation.

Values

Solid. As a leading sector, we offer security and guarantee the economic resilience of both families and businesses. We ensure stability, act with integrity and are transparent. We take a proactive stance to address future challenges and continue to provide that certainty so that people can rely on us. Trust and resilience are at the heart of everything we do.

Accessible. We ensure that our services are easy to understand and use, with attention to the individual needs of our customers. By promoting financial literacy, closing the digital divide and listening with empathy, we make financial services accessible.

Human. Financial decisions are often accompanied by important life events. That is why the customer is central to everything we do. We listen to the needs of our customers. Through empathy and engagement, we build strong, long-lasting relationships and make sure our customers feel heard and supported.

Innovative. We encourage innovation and are open to new ideas and solutions. By proactively embracing new technologies and forward-thinking approaches, we adapt to the changing needs of customers and society. Our open attitude ensures that we continue to learn, grow and shape the future of the financial sector.

“The future belongs to those who prepare for it today.”

– Malcolm X.

Core tasks

Inspire

- We unite the voices of our members, defend their interests and put forward their views powerfully and proactively in the political, economic and social debate.
- We offer targeted support through information, advice, training and networking opportunities.

Engage

We raise awareness and actively develop partnerships.

Connect

We connect all our members and forge links with policymakers and stakeholders at every level – from local to European – to represent the interests of our members.

Strategic objectives

Trusted enabler

Pushing the narrative that the sector is not only about banking, but about enabling and empowering families, businesses, and communities to thrive. The financial sector is a core enabler of economic growth & long-term stability.

Reliable protector

Emphasis the sector's role in ensuring security, fraud prevention, and data protection to build confidence and trust.

Partner in sustainability

Bring forward the sector's important role in the transition to a more sustainable economy, addressing the needs of businesses and consumers.

Driver of inclusiveness

Emphasis the sectors human-centered and inclusive character by promoting financial and digital inclusion, and show the sector's efforts towards accessible banking.

Charter

1. Professional attitude

Febelfin members and their representatives in Febelfin bodies act in good faith, honestly, conscientiously and professionally and in compliance with competition law in the performance of their duties within Febelfin.

2. Collegiality

The members of Febelfin and their representatives in the Febelfin organs adopt a loyal and collegial attitude towards the association and its members and respect the opinions of other members.

3. An eye for sector interests and the long term

The members of the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee perform their duties in the interest of and for the benefit of Febelfin and its member community as a whole. This implies that they take into account the possible long-term consequences of decisions and the interests of other institutions than the one they represent. They shall not carry out their mandate in a way that is incompatible with the purpose and the articles of the Association.

4. Preparation and availability

The Febelfin members and their representatives in Febelfin bodies ensure that they properly participate in the Febelfin meetings in a prepared way and make the necessary time available to take up and perform their duties.

5. Expertise and competence

The members of Febelfin and their representatives in Febelfin bodies ensure that they have the necessary expertise and powers to act in the name of and on behalf of that institution deliberate and decide on the matters on the agenda of the relevant body.

6. Participation in sectoral debate

Within the bodies of Febelfin, all members have an equal right to participate in the deliberations, to express their views and to defend themselves, in accordance with the provisions of the Statutes and the Internal Regulations.

7. Public positions on sectoral issues

Febelfin members keep Febelfin informed about public positions on sectoral issues. They make reasonable efforts to align their own public positions on such matters with the Febelfin positions.

Febelfin members shall refrain from criticising in a destructive way positions and decisions taken in compliance with the statutes and the internal regulations in the media and press contacts.

8. Conflicts of interest

The representatives of the members in the Febelfin bodies will inform the members of the body concerned of any interests that they personally or the institutions they represent may have and that are obviously contrary to the interests of Febelfin.

9. Parallel lobbying

The Febelfin members inform the Chairman and the CEO in advance about parallel lobbying activities in files that have been put on the Febelfin agenda. They will also keep the Chairman and the CEO informed about the progress and the outcome of these parallel lobbying activities.

Febelfin and the member associations/forums keep each other informed about lobbying activities in dossiers that concern them.

10. Confidentiality

Unless stipulated otherwise or if the context indicates otherwise, the deliberations, discussions and decisions of the Febelfin organs are confidential.

Febelfin members will refrain from sharing the contents of the deliberations and discussions of the Febelfin bodies with third parties without the consent of the Febelfin CEO.

11. Non-collegial behaviour

The Febelfin members and their representatives in the Febelfin organs acknowledge and confirm that competent bodies can make use of the possibilities in the statutes to temporarily suspend or permanently exclude a member if the member is guilty of serious shortcomings in their duties as a member, has seriously harmed the interests of the association, or behaves contrary to the ethics or the doctrine of duty, or seriously harms the image of the Belgian financial sector.
